I am Nina.
I have two homes.
Dad lives in one house.
Mom lives in another house.
And I live in both houses,
sometimes with Mom and sometimes with Dad.

It used to be different.
I used to just have one home
with Mom and Dad both in it.
Cat had her basket under the stairs
and my hamster's cage was by the window.
