

What a horrible day!

Outside on the playground, James' friends whooped and hollered. Inside, James slumped at his desk, stumbling over words as he read aloud.

To cheer himself up, James stopped at the rescue shelter on the way home to visit the cat in the box. He'd named him Ghost.

