

Lissy skips down the sidewalk holding her mother's hand.

They're going to her favorite store to buy presents for Grandma.
It's her birthday!

With the gift nicely wrapped under her arm they walk to the flower shop next door. Lissy picks a colorful bouquet.
She can't wait to give the presents to Grandma.

Grandma quickly opens the door when she sees them coming.

“Happy Birthday, Grandma,” says Lissy, as she gives her a big kiss.

Then Lissy turns around, “Bye Mom, see you later.”

“I’m so happy you’re here,” says Grandma. Lissy follows her into the kitchen, where it smells delightful.

Lissy carefully brings the teacups into the living room, and Grandma carries the pie.
