

A very long time ago, when there weren't any people, or cats and dogs, or elephants and mice . . . dinosaurs were some of
the only creatures living on earth.
Can you imagine?

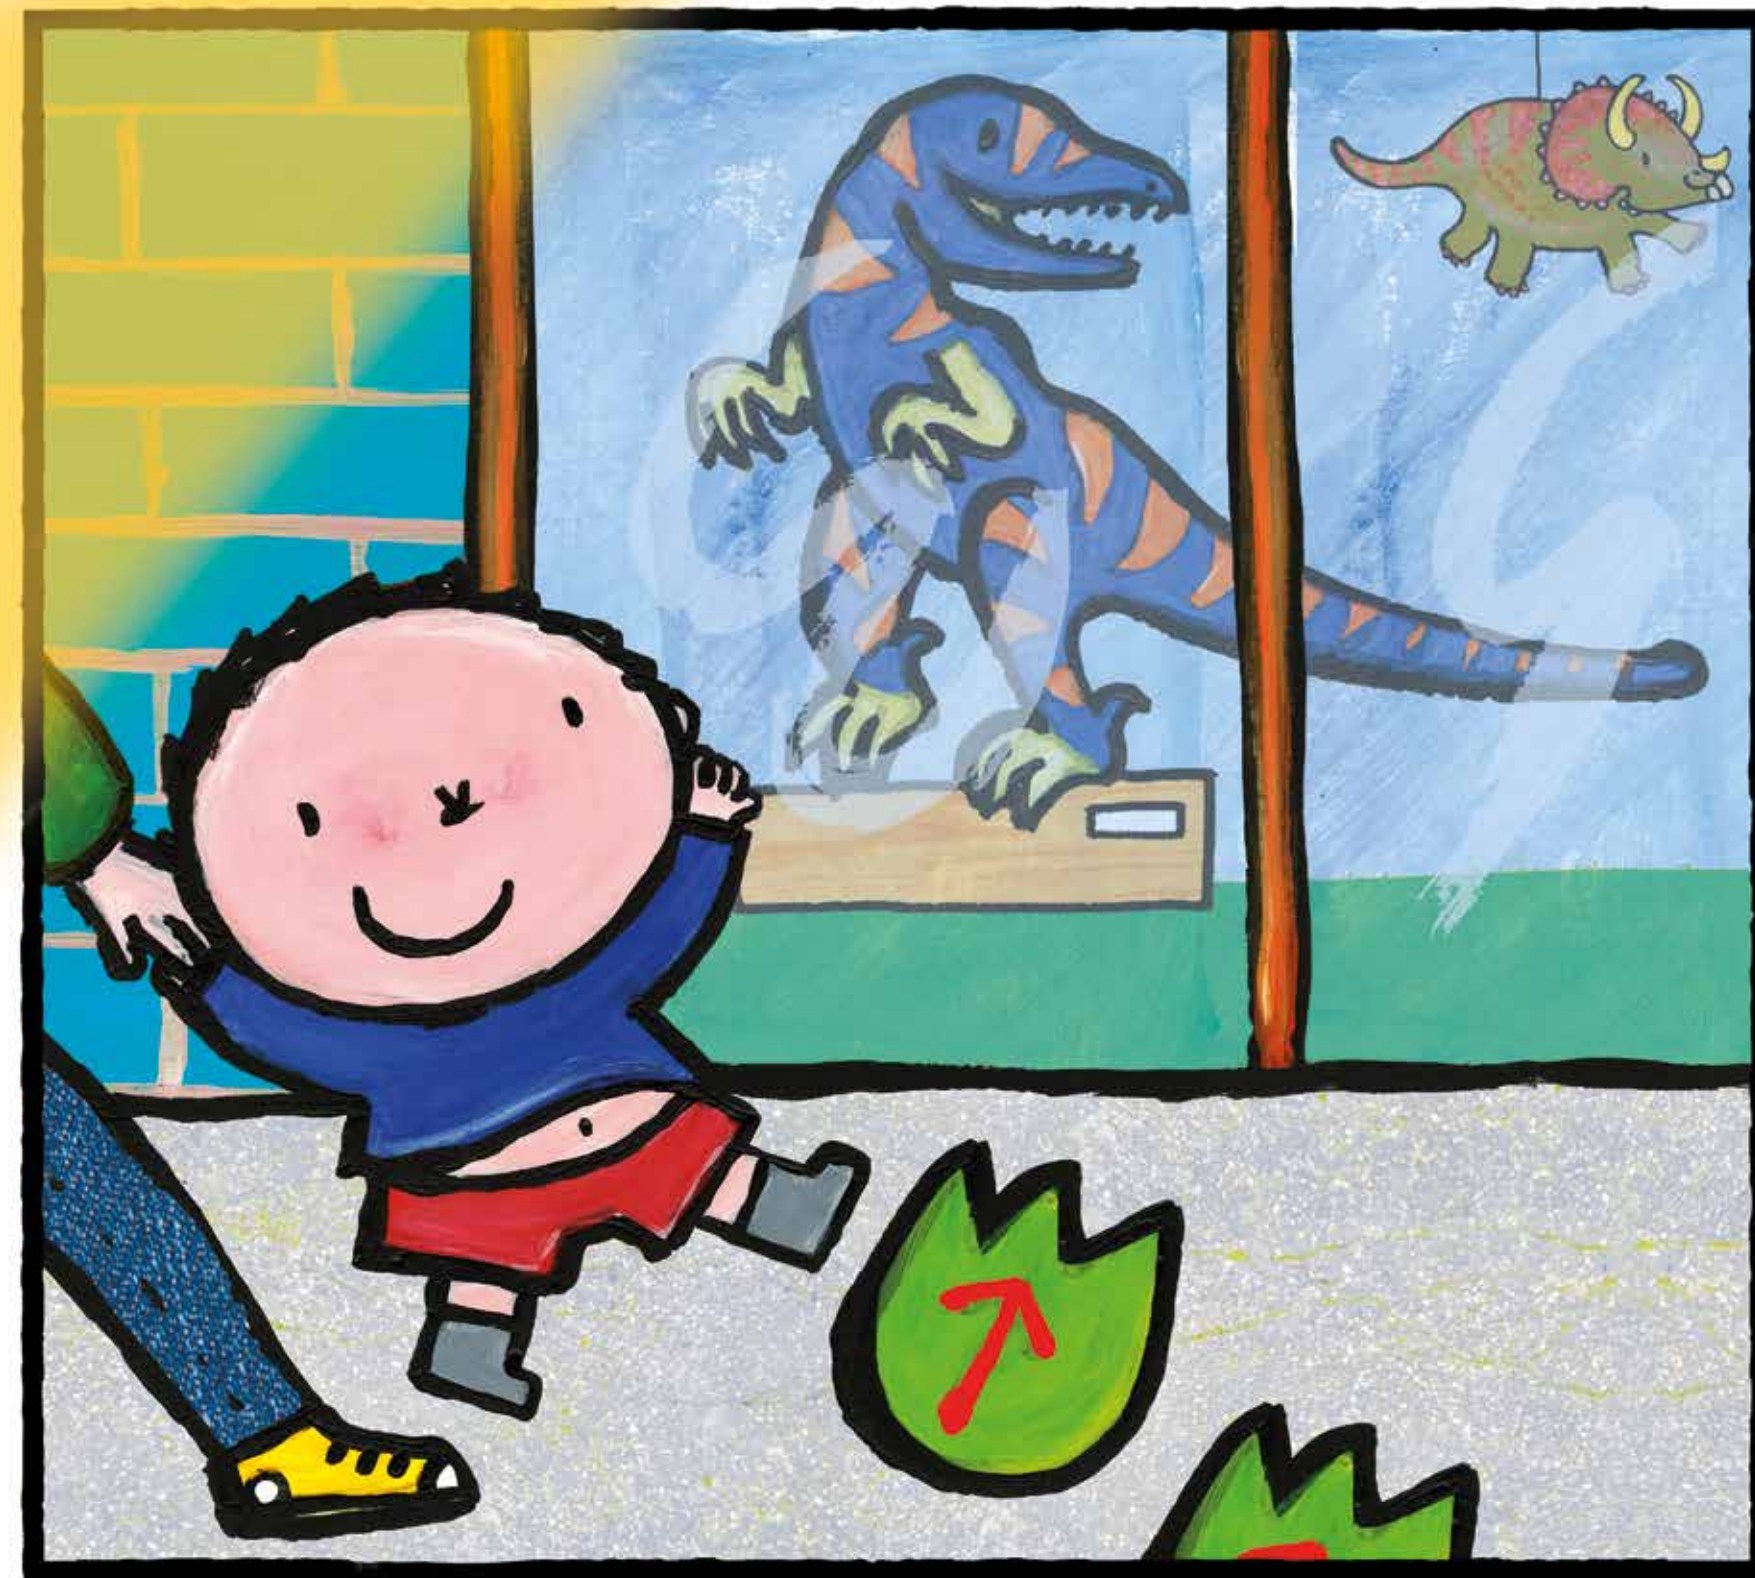

Hello, dinosaur! Who are you?

Today, you can't find a dinosaur in the forest, on the street, or in your classroom. But you can find them at the dinosaur museum!

Come along with Kevin to learn all about dinosaurs!

I'm so excited!
I can already see a dinosaur through the door!
