

Cat and Kitty are best friends. Cat is already a big, tough cat, but Kitty is still a very young kitten.

Cat knows a lot about the world, and Kitty learns a lot from her.

Today Cat asks Kitty, "Have you ever seen a dog before?"

"I don't know," Kitty says softly. "Tell me, what do they look like?"

"I'll try to explain," says Cat. "Pay close attention, because it's important that you know this."

“Dogs are often very big,
but sometimes they’re also very small.”

“But big or small . . .
they’re all dogs.”
