

Just like Anne...

I'd like to gaze out of the window and watch everyone go by.
I'll wave at them, they'll wave right back, and we'll all wear big wide smiles.

Or like BahAmin...

You could grab some paper, find a pen, and curl up in a chair.
Then write down a magical picture of a beautiful elsewhere.

You could be like Caterina...

And have a great idea for a bright and sunny tale,

Filled with dancing tulips and a school of high flying whales.

Then there's Danukas...
Who goes out and chats with people all day long
And turns their words into funny songs.

Or, like Evginiya...
Find a place for thinking on your own.
And sit there, quiet, happy and alone.

Just like Fu...

Choose to play the clown at times
And fill the air with silly rhymes.

Or, as Guadalupe...

A musical instrument, you could choose to be,
And make a bunch of noisy melodies.
