FOOTBALL PRAGMATICS

Introduction

Football Pragmatics presents experience, enthusiasm, and observations from pupil to chairman in an amateur football club with a haiku flavour. It reflects findings from active playing the football game, fulfilling volunteer and leadership roles and years of watching, reading, conversing, observing and enjoying. My gratitude goes to teammates, trainers, coaches, authorities, media, spectators and many others, who contributed very much to my enthusiasm, excitement and enjoyment.

Football Pragmatics is more prose than poetry and was written as a hobby to transfer learnings and as it is fun to puzzle and compose haikus. The haikus aim to present food for thought and pondering. I wish that you pick up Football Pragmatics now and then, enjoy reading and find yourself confirmed and inspired.

Harry Hauptmeijer

For typical management and leadership reflections kindly refer to "Management Pragmatics".

1. Safety - the highest priority
