*It does not matter how much
Two people love one another
If they're developmentally
Incompatible or if they don't
Have a shared willingness
To become conscious.
That is why we call it a
Relationship and not a loveship.
Love alone is not enough*

*If you want it to last
You have to relate to each other
In ways that keep the ship afloat.*

This book is dedicated to a dear special person.

For a long time, people have been asking me to finally sit down and write a book, but the whole problem was – on what subject?

Then, as always at an unexpected moment, the inspiration comes, the first few lines of the story are in your head, you have actually managed to find the title, and even the first chapter is written and right out of the blue, you have an encounter with someone who tells you that if you write this book it will be a catalyst, putting experiences and thoughts and feelings down on paper.

My friend MJ said that this would be a very quick process and it certainly was. Exactly in the time frame he predicted, I have written this short story, about the last 11 years and my friendship and relationship with a very special person.

No matter what has happened during this time, this person will always have a place in my heart and in my memories.

Our story is not finished yet; I know that, I think this person does too.

I hope you enjoy.
