poetry is hard sometimes it's my soul, darkest thoughts, deepest desires and worst fears my poetry reflects everything on my mind it's not pretty, most of the times but it has helped me to be more open, and accept help these poems do not define me, these are thoughts that come up to me at times, to help me cope with emotions i hope I can help you a little bit to cope with your emotions enjoy reading my lonely desert flower
