Prologue

Allow yourself to experience this journey of words. A poem album which takes you from station to station. Chapter to chapter.

The circumstances which this tale has been born are far from idealistic.

As you try to catch air with bare hands I found myself among clouds while ground chaos taking their interest.

I allowed myself to use artistic freedom

Enjoy what you are about to read.

Chapter I

Threated like a number

Closer to home (so far so good)

Today the homeboy taken a long distant trip

Carrying a bottle of water on his hip

He said it's for the family tree

For they all wanted to send him to the psychiatry

A duty free zone came along

People were looking weird when things didn't go wrong

Straight down he left the place with a flacon of eau the toilet

He didn't need one more action he could regret

Just like a cat bad hunter and crazy hour at night

Leaving home he just might, make it right

It had nothing to do with you

Alone the house was no home, there's your clue

A golden ticket being all alone

Take him back in your arms his comfort zone

How come he wasn't going insane?

The force was there all the time all the way to blame

Return to home basic before the rain falls

Said one of the many calls

He's the only he listen to, a freaky system metallic voice

Now he is taking shelter at yours like he didn't had a choice

Seasons has changed

Things rearranged

Homeboy talks no more war slang

For some peace came after the big bang

He never left the place again

Only on some special occasions to play with his fellow men

Metro carried him on to his part-time job

The teacher now is escorted by a cop

With a skin so thick, he didn't mind everybody called him sick

Ground Zero

Let's take this trip together

Sun or rain in any kind of weather

The worst enemy turns in perfect friends

More than just back in the days when you were only trying to get into my pants

Hand in hand walking in your streets again

Soften the path, leaving behind the pain

For our future holds a lot to share

Underground on the square and terrorist in the air

Nowhere left to hide

We got each other and a lot left to fight

Too much time I wasted for you to stand by me

At a dangerous place on a stormy corner in a dark aged city

Throwing a rock in the sea when the waves where strong

Diving it up again deep and long

Spend too much hours under beneath the sea level

Now I got you a real dare devil

In many ways to me a big hero

Bring me back to ground zero

The twins are no longer standing up high

Saying that the truth is more important then you is a lie

Back up boys clearing out the mess

Walk on the side ways through the trespass

A tourist in your own town isn't it a pity

Let's get together in New York City

Allies waiting for your KO punch

Then I will take you out in Manhattan for a big bright brunch

In the search of (bon appetite)

Take a good look around

And tell me what you found

Didn't you saw me sitting there in that old bench?

Talking to myself in the language of France

Searching for treasures in your backyard

Don't try to stop me because you're really unable

His will is strong and testified

Try to get him with me I could have lied

Saying I wanna take you for some dinner...

Searching for treasures in your backyard

I'm not kidding I'm a winner

Now he lays on a platter at the dining room

And soon the day will come when he becomes my groom

The grass is green and the roses are in bloom

Searching for treasure in your backyard

That's my doom

Bon appetite to you for now

You are on the menu for tonight somehow

Swallow hard and deep

You are a treasure I would like to keep ...

One of these mornings

Better save then sorry

Definitely time to worry

Roomservcices brought everything we need

That's a good deed indeed

Waking up can't open my eyes yet

Be aware the smell of fear comes easily to my ferret

Covered by sheets shocking wet

Animals where playing in our bed, stinking sweat

But the sun rose up quit early this morning

Tell by your face just another mood swing

There is a lot to catch up

Day-care take a walk with the pup!

Don't matter what people may say

And don't listen to laughter when you're on your way

You are a friend which I appreciate a lot

Slipping into my window last night without getting caught

It was the best action a hero could make

After my door was barricade

Now I got my eyes open wide

Standing on my balcony watching you walk with the dog on your side

Sniffing butts of many of them

Trouble is popping in my mind

As this hotel we have to leave behind

Checkout time is passed a while ago

And our money is getting low

Housekeeping come knocking at the door

We got to do some more, packing my stuff and selling the pets to the pet store

Rubbish on the side

Driven by emotions so strong

That's why we can't get along

Passions fulfil my destiny!

I am begging you on both my knees

Certainly this has got to come to an end

Depending on me before the weekend

Wasting all precious time...

Knowing you are mine

With my hand attached to my back

Facing my depth don't know when

All alone I see it fade away

Left me nothing but dreaming over a big escape

One moment on one day

I catch my prey

Bear handed raising up to the sky

Within time you will see why...

Santa Algo (voz de Dios)

What is it this time you got, a nice concept

Should I be frightened of one of your attacks?

It doesn't keep me awake in the night

The time is right to prepare for a fight

Turning and tossing who and where

Let it all out on you just aint fair...

Share my secrets with many people

Keep my hands to myself

Shelter for the rain

A good impulse to get this thing done

I lay at your feet

Electroshocks all around in my brain

These second error, just can get it straight

What ever happened, before this day is through?

You and I should get laid

I was born the day Jesus died

More than I can handle is keeping me occupied

For the wave traveling a long distance

Hostage again in a nasty trance.

Thank you for waking me up

No molesting at all?

At least you can do is give me a call...

Don't waste my time with a pray

Wishing this moment you All will Go away!

Death of a friend

They all told me you have died

Couldn't believe you really committed suicide

Don't believe in the stars above

Or in angels flinging high in the sky like a dove

A flinging rat seems not what you are

Could use you beside me in this conflict of war

That night you couldn't compied

Feels like betrayal, you didn't look defeat

All good things come to an end

It happened to the ice cream you ones send

I saw it coming, though!

Just like the curtains of your freak show

May I take a moment and be serious for a while?

Walking along the road simply in the rain without a smile

Mile after mile

Can't stop walking and looking upstairs with my eyes lit up to the sky

Ignore all strangers passing by

In cars bicycles boats or whatever carries them on

Deep down inside I should have known something was wrong

Rock bottom falling hard

Jumping of that building was your final card

Mile after mile you where tumbling down

Now your blood lays in the streets of your hometown

For the one I don't know

Traveling along the dirty road

Not looking behind and getting lost

Many people on the street but I am looking for you

Wound give up

My feet are killing me I wound quit

This could be the night I can hear you say I do

Searching and finding

Luckiness is on my side

Somehow you left me without a clue

The nights turn in disaster

Sun shows no mercy

Got to get you back, this adventure is through

Game set match

Forgot my reason why on earth name am I here

Once again single and in due

Face me ones after my trail

A clear message tonight

Don't worry it wasn't all about you...

Giving a fuck

Thanks for the start you made

Remember what they say: love turns easily into hate

Just in time, tuning in the right frequency

Taking me to places I can fancy

Out door, In door

Keeping up the score

Watching a game of chess

No way my mind in this state finds some rest

The wrong crowd surrounding

Queen kills the King

The game came to an end and so is the day

You started, I will take you away

Dreams living up to the expectation

My bed is the next station, our destination!

It's all about timing, snatching away the ball

Having the time of your life, this is your call

You better answer it before it's too late...

Don't make it more than too complicate

This day you're the best thing I have seen

Don't turn it into a horror scene.

Which your children mostly adore

Now and again feed the animals some more

For the dogs and cats out there will find some peace

We got more important things to do to set the situation at ease

The boy next door

The boy next door, taking Labour Day again

Screaming in agony out a lot of pain

But mostly talking bullshit from the moment I wake up

Yes I know it very well because I ain't got no job

Follow him everywhere he is going to

Why not I don't have anything better to do

He comes knocking on my door one morning, but it didn't yet

The only one who had contact with seems to be my cat

Who slips out of my house down the street

Following him and every one he meet

The nights are never peaceful and quite

The wall between us doesn't keep much to hide

Although he doesn't noticed that I exist

Taking part of his life seems too much too big of a dangerous risk

For what he is been going through and all I Know

We share the same view, talking about the window

More than that and I can't express

But when he screams again I must confess

I hope the wall come crashing down and he sees me in the nude

That's my boy next door, just another dude

Then selling him my last lucky strike

I take him on a ride with my motorbike

Then we making some business plans

Both out of vacation and without empty hands

And we...? Will make a lot of money, honey!

The Heir

Are you thinking about the heir?

Wondering around cause it's not there

Create a family as soon as you get the house cleaned out

The next generation is allowed

It's a serious problem, though

We count too many souls, it's an overflow

So choose wise and let them be a part of your live

This planet needs to survive

Making babies is simply not my thing

One more mistake to this earth I will not bring, take them under your wing

Destruction I seen it and been there before

Crowded house but I need some more

This crisis can't be handled all alone

Talking about your capital, it hadn't shown

Be careful with the company

Look at you, wanna be part of this family

Can be arranced in a moment of time

At the casino, tossing a dime

You loose and you win

Our fortune it has to begin

Growing up fast and getting old

Leaving it up to you before I get to bold

Have the responsibility of your generation

Talking about across the ocean and in every nation, overpopulation!

...without you

I'm stuck in plan B for way to long

Trying to find you in one of another of my sad song

Listen to voices more than I can bear

Missing your words whispering in my ear

From day to day I go

Drowning or riding within the flow

It all seem the same to me these days

How do you do? Just another fraise

Doing fine, just fine!

I counted the days since you weren't mine

Too much time has been passing through

I am stuck in a daydream WITHOUT YOU

I hear you say it's a nightmare by now

I wanna have you back but I don't know how

Left without a single trace

That's the day I started my race

It's got to be bigger faster and better then what you and I got

Machines driven, riding horses but of you I thought

Sincerely yours it's what I end the letter with

Giving away your cloth to the one who seems to fit

Reminding me there is an ocean out somewhere

The coastline seems to give good care

Watching the sun go down all the way

That's when we used to start to play...

All for the best

Second changes are giving free today

Sell out your destiny

It's serious no time to play

Take a look at your bank account

Presents are for free the rest you have to buy

Mistakes flowing all around

Reach the point of no return

On top of the world

Take care there's still a lot to learn

Brighten up your day

Fool around ones in a while

No need for more delay

For now the time is right

To open your eyes and see

Many people are joining you at your side

Even if I have to squeeze it out

I need to hear you say, forgive me

Shout it out loud!

Your future is in their hands

No control

Let me here your demands

Bonus Track

I like to see them hanged, those who had raped
My Goth father died before his the time was there and didn't get paid
For raising me up the way I am today
Strongest survive, my time had come I heard him say
The boy is walking with the last ice cream, licking
Another group followed him and yelled kick him
For they stole his last comfort in the heat that's hard to bear
Now he has to wait for another year
He asks me; why are you so sad?
Just like I was some runaway cat
Mind your own business sunny! As I turned my back
Take one of my bonus tracks
For there we can count on 24/7
Tiktok the streets where already hounded before half eleven
Smart people stayed in bed like my Goth father preached
They're somewhere taking shelter out of reach
I took my long to realize and I didn't know what to say
Save it for a rainy day, you're lucky it's May
Like a pill you can use on special occasions
Poison too many maisons
I am still digesting the lecture you gave last week
Its truth, find and seek, home alone and weak
Getting ready to get settle down, for the boxes are unpacked
For experience hasn't lacked
For I reminded how we started in the first time
Exchanged you for some fine wine
I neglected to tell you out loud
You are the one that make him proud
Play with fire, burn your hands. I am gonna stick with you, my never ending romance...

Anywhere but here

Giving birth to this devilish game of yours

Not a change

Waiting with patience in agony

To get my revenge

Glorious bodies flowing all my way

Slightly become a touchy boy

Through the day

Years has gone by since I saw you for the last time

Music is filling the air that is warm and soothing

Appreciate you more over a glass of wine

I lost my home on the face of the earth

Big names banging in my head

All a joke too you for what it's worth

You showed me you care

Fruit seizon has come to an end,

But the grapes are still there

Waiting years and years for you to return home

Close your eyes and take a nap with a dream for you alone

Seize the moment and close the doors behind you

Come on baby can't you see I am through

Gimme some help, we got a lot of work to do...
