ABUSE IN THE NAVY

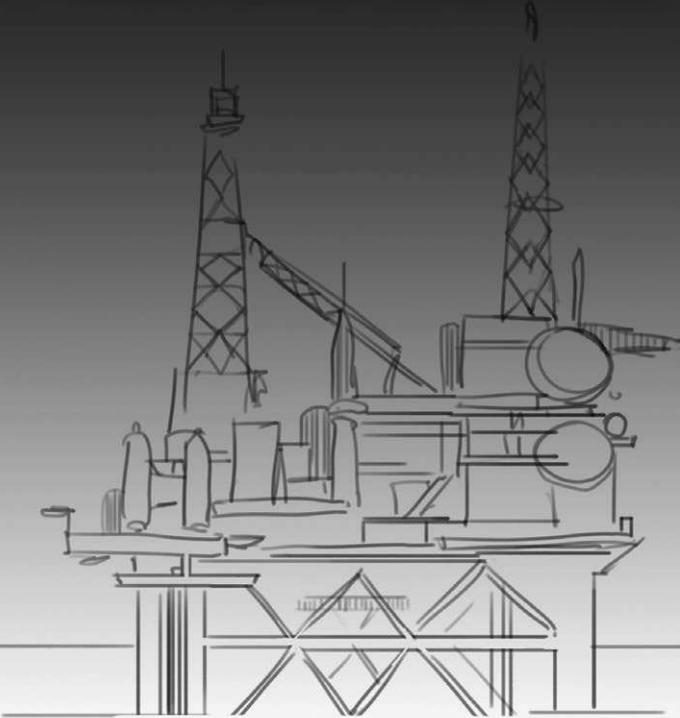

FROM OUR REPORTER – Whistleblowers at Defense have come forward with reports of abuse of power, coercion, illegal drug use and transgressive behavior in the Navy. After our independent investigation, we can report that the Department of Defense is turning a blind eye to widespread officer misconduct and leaving victims of abuse out in the cold. More on this cover-up and interviews with our anonymous sources can be found on page 7...

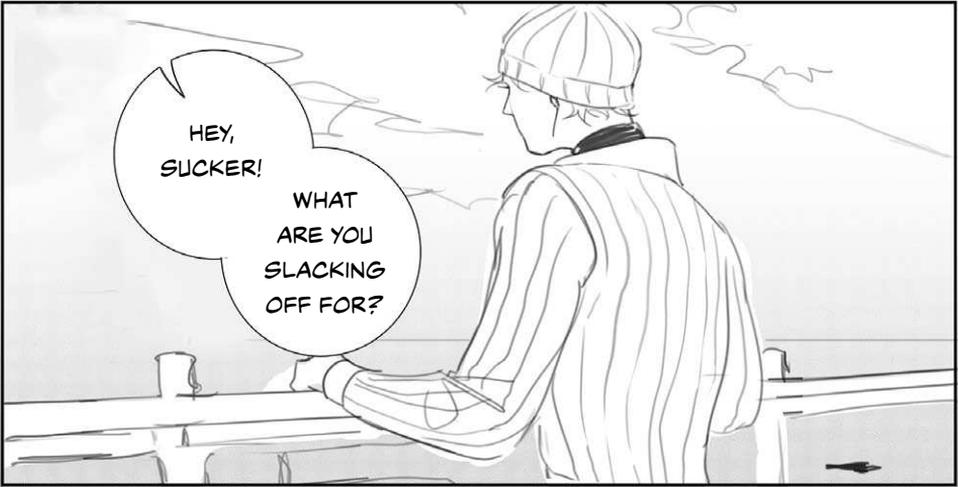

LOVELY,
THIS SALTY AIR.

AT LEAST IT COVERS UP THE SMELL OF OIL A BIT.

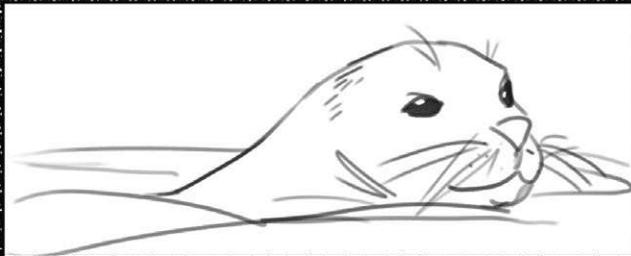

HEY, A SEAL!
THEY DON'T COME
HERE VERY OFTEN.

THERE'S WAY TOO MANY CARGO SHIPS IN THESE WATERS FOR THAT.

A DROWNING MAN?

STAY CALM!
I'LL GET HELP!

WHAT WAS THE PROTOCOL
FOR A MAN OVERBOARD?

THERE IS A COMPUTER IN THE CONTROL ROOM, WHICH, THROUGH TRANSMITTERS WORN BY CREW MEMBERS, KEEPS TRACK OF WHERE EVERYONE IS ON THE PLATFORM.

ACCORDING TO THE COMPUTER, EVERYONE IS STILL HERE.

IS THERE NO MAN OVERBOARD?

YOU CAN SEE IT ON THE SCREEN YOURSELF, RIGHT?

ALARM WOULD'VE GONE OFF IF SOMEONE WAS.

BUT I DID
SEE SOMEONE,
RIGHT...?

YOU COMING TO DINNER?

YEAH, I'M COMING.

KJELL IS THE
SENIOR MECHANIC I
RECENTLY STARTED WORKING UNDER.
HE'S A NICE GUY.

HOW GOOD'S
YOUR AIM?

NOT VERY GOOD, OR HE WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN FIRED FROM THE NAVY!

SO THE STORY OF ME BEING
EXPELLED FROM THE NAVY HAD GONE AROUND.

I'M SO EXHAUSTED.

I NEED
SLEEP.
