Introduction

Stichting Alzheimer Curacao has celebrated its 15th anniversary by organizing a conference, together with Alzheimer's Disease International (ADI), on "The Need and Benefits of a National Plan" for dementia. The conference would bring together participants from Curacao and from the Non-Latin Caribbean region to discuss the impact of dementia and how to tackle it.

The conference took place from February 27 - March 1, 2015 at the Hilton Curacao Resort.

To give the people with an interest in Alzheimer's and developments in this area an opportunity to 'attend' the conference at home, this book has been composed.

This book consists of the conference information, general information, interviews, photos of the conference and lots more.

Besides the conference-based information, this book contains some information about Alzheimer's disease and about important organizations in the field of Alzheimer's and dementia.

„Coming to this conference I hope to take back a lot of lessons. Lessons on Alzheimer's and on ADI. We in Dominica do not have an association. Actually there is no real awareness on the disease. We know that the disease exists, dementia and Alzheimer's. However, it's the general thought that the disease comes with age and this shows that the awareness is low. But I plan to go back and initiate awareness and hopefully later an association for Alzheimer's in our country.“
