PROLOGUE

once she came into this world she came from somewhere else but where she came from she could not remember because the day she arrived her memory was empty who am I?

what am I supposed to be doing here? she once knew but unfortunately these memories are left behind over there she feels homesick she lost her way back home the place she came from so she is going to start and search for a way back her way back home the way back to the ONE the way back to the universal consciousness the way back to God

1 : HER CHILDHOOD

she was born in a small place a safe place a close community with kind, peaceful and loving people this place was beautiful like a piece of heaven on Earth a real Golden City

while she grew up she felt free and happy she felt one with her surrounding one with all the other people of the community with the animals, the trees the plants and the flowers one with every stone of every building with every grain of sand with the air, the water the sun, the moon and the stars they were as one and lived as one filled with love and light this was the life she knew when she was a child paradise on Earth

she heard stories about the world outside the community much bigger and very different from the world she knew this world was not as heavenly as the world she knew
