Introduction

Although I had been working on a book for some time, about my life until now and surrendering my life to Christ in response to a series of wondrous events, I am at the time I write this 52 years of age, the book that you hold in your hands is ready far earlier than the one which was intended as my first book. On the back of the cover I briefly explain how this has developed. When I told people about the things that I've tasted firsthand, I sensed a bit of an attitude of "you always experience something special"not rarely I got the reaction; "why don't you write a book ?"

Hence, the first result of my, alleged, writingtalent is this book. An interview that was allowed to a journalist. With not just anyone : Jesus Christ. At the time that the whole picture was shown to me, in a kind of "vision" (I can find no other word for it) I literally thought: "Ridiculous, who do I think I am, very thin ice and what do I know completely of Jesus Christ ? I will not do this !"

Yet there were, within 2 hours after the "vision", already 5 questions and answers on a lined sheet of paper and to my surprise I had no idea what I had written. I wrote it without a plan, at least without a plan or concept of my own. Whenever I had written something, I had to read back what had rolled out of the ballpointpen. And within 2 months it came to its completion. While I wrote it, really effortless it seemed, no drop of sweat (or it must have been due to the hot weather) was invested and I had no time of blockage or worry whatsoever. I said prayers for the right words. Who would dare to put words in Jesus 's mouth that He would never say? Well, not me. You could see the book as fiction or as truly "inspired by the Holy Spirit". I leave that to the reader. Fact is that I feel no hesitation to publish this book. My spirit is full of peace. I might step on the toes of some of those who read, it is not my intention to offend people. Perhaps the words are not in line with how you personally experience your "christianity" or your beliefsystem. That is possible. My prayer is that this book either leads you to Jesus Christ, or brings you closer to Him. Feel free to ventilate your opinion, I have no problems with that. Do you have questions? Go to Him Who has all the answers. I am not your teacher, the Holy Spirit is your Teacher. Have fun reading and I hope that you will find answers to questions which you have or have had. Or that people in your circle of connections have.

I dedicate this book to anyone who is searching. Either to find the only I AM, God the Father, our Creator, whom they may not know, either to come into a deeper relationship with the Creator of the universe and everything in it. God's love and blessings to everyone.

I pray that you may find His Love.

Comment by Roland Houtman

Dear reader, I am glad I was asked to give a comment on this new book. When I first met Otto he shared his personal testimony of what our God does when you call upon Him. I had been looking for personal testimonies to learn what people really experienced in their life. Just because, in my humble opinion, theology can't be separated from daily life as being some completely different reality.

This way I have been talking to a variety of people, from all walks of life, who were willing to share their testimonies. Not after they showed some hesitation, because in general not many were interested in what they had to tell about their special experience. Yet, I could not find a common denominator beyond the fact that none of them really had a clue about the spiritual realms around us. But I did meet converts, christians, who all told me they have a personal relationship with the living God.

In this book many questions are asked. I have had many of those questions. And rarely heard a coherent answer to them. Sometimes answers seemed logical or reasonable, most of the time they had nothing to do with what Jesus Christ says with and in His word. They seldom were in line with the will of the Father.

This problem is nothing new: just read the book of John chapter 7:

John 7

20 The crowd answered, "You have a demon ! Who wants to kill You?"

21 Jesus replied, "I did one work, and you are all astounded.

22 For this reason Moses has given you circumcision and you circumcise a man [even] on the Sabbath.

23 If, to avoid breaking the Law of Moses, a man undergoes circumcision on the Sabbath, why are you angry with Me for making a man's whole body well on the Sabbath ?

24 Do not judge by appearance, but judge fairly and righteously."

I expect that this book will give you this mindset, gives you the passion to search the living God with all your heart, to have a personal relationship with Him and really get to know Him better.

God bless you, Glory to Him

I really want to encourage you to read this book. Before it was officially published, I was urged by Holy Spirit to share it beforehand with a non-believer to read it. And also to a believer of a certain denomination. So I did.

They both came back to me with a positive message !

The non-believer wanted to be baptized ! There is power in this book in the name of Jesus Christ !

We must never forget the simplicity in Christ Jesus. It is good to look at Jesus from a very different angle like this book does. Not a distant look, but a direct view upon His face, asking Him what is in our hearts.

The second man, the believer, came back completely on fire for the Lord ! He took it upon him to become a deacon in church and has become a disciple of Jesus Christ with newfound enthusiasm and drive. In this book he found the things he had been experiencing for some time and it really came upon him as a confirmation and affirmation.

People tend to make things harder than they are. In this interview with Jesus things are put in His simplicity. The words He speaks in this book may seem mistifying sometimes because of their ancient sound. But they are rather plain.

May God bless every reader. Everything you read can be found, in other words maybe, in the Bible. See, truth stays the same. Whether you use old or new language.

When I was 18 years I met the family of the writer, green as I was. Mother Bos attended a church but no one else did in the family of 5. For a while I lived with the family Bos in their house, because the mother had suffered a hernia. I was fully accepted by everyone, and there a new world opened for me. This is the basis of my discovery of life, ignorant as I was all together. Years later I met the brother of Otto and he told me that he recently started going to church, I remember that I responded in a kind of disapproving way, I didn't know any better. A few years later I met Otto himself again at my sons school, in a very dark period in my life. Otto told me about God and that I could ask for support, I was not open for that in that moment. I was searching, but I was looking for it in a whole other direction.

In the spring of 2015 I found Otto on the pitch of a soccerclub and what happened there was like a mystery to me, but for me that was the moment that I have found the road and it was clear. I told him that I had purchased the Bible in ordinary language, but that I had not read much up until then. Otto told me about his life and his quest for God. There I was touched by his testimony and I started to believe in the power of faith in Christ Jesus.

I am still searching in a way, to find where I fit in Jesus. In Otto I have found a 'guide' to Christ. I think it is nice to discuss things with him, I 'confess' my doubts and my victories to him. I always find an open ear.

I was honoured to be asked to read this book before it was published officially; the questions are questions that many of us would like to ask God. Otto has a special gift, the gift of the word. He knows how to reach people, touching them through His loving word, Otto calls it. I hope and pray that many people may be inspired and get on track to Jesus. Otto, you are a special man with a special mission. GBY
