Prince Tristans journey

Once upon a time in a magic fairykingdom called Rosamund lived a fairy king called king Orrin the blessed one. His wife called queen Gwendolyn the blessed one died long time ago. Some said because of an ordinary cold but others said that it was a evil woodspirit that had killed her. King Orrin lived a life alone with his son prince Tristan the blessed one since that time. He never married another time. His whole magic fairykingdom was surrounded by large strong smelling roses in all sorts of colors . They where 50 times larger than our Roses are and they smelled 100 times stronger than our Roses. They glew in the dark at night times like most magic plants and herbs and flowers from the magic fantasy planet called Prionstar. His large white palace was decorated with gold and silver paint everywhere with beautiful symbols like the roof of his palace was gold and silver also. There was a large magic fantasy lake that was like a mirror and that showed everyone their true self next to the palace. That could scare many creatures and sometimes it didnt. There where 3 mermaids that lived inside the lake that had broken thousands of hearts and that dragged people and creatures to the dark of the lake never to be seen again and there where large lillies in all kinds of colors where small fairies danced inside combing their hairs with little golden and silver combs looking inside small golden and silver mirrors and that sang so beautiful that it hypnotised everyone that heard them singing. They lived inside the large waterlillies on the magic fantasy lake. One day king Orrin asked his son prince Tristan to come to him because he wanted to talk with him about something important. "Come here my dear son prince Tristan the blessed one" said king Orrin while he looked with a worried face. His son stood in front of him while king Orrin was sitting on his large magic fairy throne in the form of a large Rose. "Yes my dear father ?" said prince Tristan the blessed one.

"Tell me what can I do for you father?" said prince Tristan. "Well my dear son..." started king Orrin the blessed one. "The daughter from queen Oonah the blessed one and from king Finvarrah the blessed one is kidnapped by the evil king Belial the bloodthirsty one and by the evil queen Lillith the bloodthirsty one. They want to trade her for the power over Tir Na Nog. I want you to save her." said king Orrin the blessed one. "She needs our help and help from other strong helpers like us." Prince Tristan looked at his father and promised him that he would help princess Aurora the blessed one and set her free from the evil powerful kingdom Draconia where the evil king Belial the bloodthirsty one and the evil queen Lillith the bloodthirsty one predominated over. I shall set her free father said prince Tristan the blessed one. I love princess Aurora and I want to marry her father. I know that my son said king Orrin the blessed one. You have my permission to marry with princess Aurora when you have set her free. He took a large golden unicorn necklace and hang that around the neck from prince Tristan the blessed one. Here is a large unicorn necklace that is for you my dear son said his father. The unicorn is our family weapon like the Rose. This will protect you and this small magic sword from Merlin the sorcerer will protect you to. He handed over a small silver sword with a golden unicorn head and 2 large silver eyes inside. This is the magic sword from Merlin the sorcerer who stays in Tir Na Nog with queen Oonah the blessed one and with king Finvarrah the blessed one. It will protect you in battles wherever you go son. Please bring it safely to Merlin the sorcerer because this is his property. Prince Tristan took the little magic silver sword and put it with him safely next to his other magic sword on his back. Prince Tristan himself had a large magic silver sword with at the end from the sword a large golden Rose another symbol from the Rosamund kingdom and he was very proud of his large magic silver sword that he always wore on his back with him. He missed his mother queen Gwendolyn but he hardly remembered her because she died when he was really small. He knew that a evil woodspirit killed his lovely mother and not some cold. He never believed that an ordinary cold could kill someone that easy and he knew that evil woodspirits were real and that they really excited. Be very careful on your journey son said his father to his son because there are many dangers that you are going to face when you travel to Draconia and to Tir Na Nog to save princess Aurora the blessed one. Prince Tristan said that he understood everything that his father said and that he would be careful for everything that would come on his way during his dangerous journey to Draconia and to Tir Na Nog. Don't worry about me father said prince Tristan the blessed one. I will come back with the head from king Belial the bloodthirsty one and with the head from queen Lillith the bloodthirsty one in a basket to you father and I will come back with princess Aurora on my horse and our children will predominate over our fairykingdom Rosamund and over our fairykingdom Tir Na Nog father. Prince Tristan was wearing a beautiful velvet white suit decorated with gold and silver and he was wearing a large white cape with a hood also decorated with gold and silver together with his 2 magic swords and a large magic silver shield with a golden unicorn on it. Thank you my dear son said his father king Orrin the blessed one. I am very happy to hear that and I wish you all the luck on your dangerous journey. Go now my son and you are always in my thoughts wherever you go. You to father said prince Tristan the blessed one. You are always with me in my thoughts wherever I go to. And I shall return as soon as possible dear father. After these words prince Tristan took his magic white horse Azura and climbed on her when he left for his long journey to save the beautiful fairy princess Aurora the blessed one from the evil kingdom Draconia from the evil king Belial the bloodthirsty one and from the evil queen Lillith the bloodthirsty one. He wasn't afraid at all for anything because he was a very brave young prince but he knew how much he would miss his dear father on such a long journey but he knew that this was for a good cause and that he would do anything to save his lovely bride princess Aurora the blessed one that he loved more than anything in the whole of Prionstar.

2. The werewolf Loki

After a while prince Tristan came near a large dark forest with many large dark scary trees and many large glow in the dark mushrooms. He saw a large dark path and wanted his magic horse Azura to walk over that path but Azura felt uncomfortable and she looked paranoid to the road but finally stepped on it and walked a little nervous over the large dark road. And he was right to be nervous because inside the large dark forest was a large dark dangerous werewolf and he jumped in front of Azura and prince Tristan with his scary dark red eyes lighting up in the darkness. Prince Tristan said oh no it is Loki the werewolf from the Renshaw forest. He wanted to jump off his horse to stab the werewolf with his large magic sword and it started to snow when he heard 2 horses coming closer with male voices. He knew these voices because they were the voices from his 2 best friends from Prince Siegfried the blessed one who was the brother of princess Aurora the blessed one and from Lord Valiant La Croix a wealthy young nobleman. "Hey" said prince Siegfried joyful to prince Tristan the blessed one. "We are here to help you our dear friend! We are here to kill Belial's werewolf his close friend!" Prince Tristan sighed because he was happy to see his 2 best friends to help him in the fight against Loki the werewolf from the Renshaw forest. "Don't worry we will kill the werewolf!" said Lord Valiant brave to prince Tristan.

Meanwhile the snow went faster and faster falling from the dark night sky and the 7 silver moons from the Sirion Vox galaxy were visible in the dark sky. Prince Tristan looked at his 2 friends that were busy fighting with the werewolf with their 2 silver magic swords and finally they won the battle against Loki the werewolf from the Renshaw forest and they killed the werewolf with their sword. Prince Tristan was happy that his friends had killed the werewolf and he thanked his friends for that. "Thanks that you have saved my life" said prince Tristan to his friends, "Let's go to an inn now and find a comfortable place to stay the night instead of staying here in this cold icy and snowy weather. Prince Siegfried and Lord Valiant agreed to that and they followed prince Tristan towards a nice comfortable inn where there were all thick silver bars in front of the windows as protection against something that they didn't know about yet but they wanted to know why there were so thick silver bars in front of the windows." "There is lots of security here" said prince Tristan while he sat next to a large wooden table with his 2 friends. "Look at their windows. All thick silver bars. The people are afraid of something here I think but what for?"

"I have no idea" said Lord Valiant La Croix. "Maybe because of the werewolves outside?"

"It is possible" said prince Tristan. "Maybe they are afraid from Belial and his strong evil army" said prince Siegfried. "Maybe you can ask the landlord" said prince Siegfried. "I see him over there behind the bar busy with glasses and bottles for people. He looks like a retard laughed prince Tristan while prince Siegfried pointed his hand in the way of a small man with a big nose with a large thick face a large thin mouth with a few teeth and long brown spikey hair and big hands. He was also very fat. Prince Tristan thought that the man was around 1.60 m and not taller than that. He thought that he looked more like a troll than like a human being. Their table was a large round table made from pine wood with a large chandelier and 4 large white candles burning inside the chandelier. After a while came a young lady to bring their menu cards and she asked what they wanted to drink. She had long curly red hair and large blue eyes and she was very tall and quite chubby. She was wearing a large blue dress with a large white apron around her dress and on her head she wore a large white cap made from cotton.

"Goodevening gentlemen" she said. "My name is Cymbeline and I am here to take your order please."

"Well" said lord Valiant. "We all want a large glass of beer" and when we look at the menu we decided that we all want the roasted duck please. The other men nodded. "Yes" said prince Tristan. "That is correct." Cymbeline wrote down all the order on her paper and she took the 3 menu cards with her again. "Okey dear gentlemen thank you for your order" she said and she walked away towards the kitchen and towards the landlord to give the order for making their drinks. After a while Cymbeline came with the 3 beer and Lord Valiant was really happy with that because his throat felt like sandpaper he thought and everyone was thirsty and hungry. Thank God it was nice and warm inside the inn because of a nice fireplace where a nice warm fire burned inside to keep everything warm and cozy because outside it was freezing with ice and snow and the 3 men were happy that they were sitting inside the nice warm cozy inn even though they still didn't know why everyone was so afraid inside the inn and they kept talking about the large silver thick bars in front of the windows until prince Tristan decided to ask about it to Cymbeline about it or to ask about it to the landlord otherwise because he thought that safety was really important and he wanted to feel safe in a nice safe place and he didn't like it when he didn't know about things. He wanted to know everything about what was going on in the inn where they were staying and where they were going to sleep because safety was one of the most important things in life thought prince Tristan and his 2 friends agreed about that also. They wanted to know what was going on inside the inn. "Mmmm what a lovely beer" said Lord Valiant La Croix while he was sipping from his large beer. "I really needed that." he said. "So did we" said prince Siegfried while he was sipping from his large beer to.
