

Texts of a life,
to reflect about your own!

Texts of a life, to reflect about your own!

Nuno Fernandes

Author: Nuno Fernandes
Coverdesign: Nuno Fernandes
Published via Bookmundo
ISBN: 9789463865883

© Nuno Fernandes

Introduction

The story of a young man's sensitive and sentimental "journey" to succeed in life! A story full of overcoming and conquest! I wanted to share this, my secret world, but humankind don't know how to live in a world of words, deeds and magic and that's how I am!

This book is adressed to people, who see the world as it is, with lots of differences in societies, as the money with a big gap and growing, between rich and poor and to reflect their conscious and take some ideas to put in their daily activities.

To all the lost "souls", all who want to work in own self-improvement, to feel that they aren't alone and everything is possible, as soon as you put your mind to it! Believe and mainly on yourself!

If you have a life of success and feel good with your social life, this book bring little to you.

You will find many texts applied on my everyday life, special moments I have lived and as so, I out on words what I watched everyday and my judgements. I apply here, many words I saw in the books I read! Hope you'll find here something to inspire you, at least those minutes, to put you to dream, as I advise you to read it in silence.

☯ Me ☯

One thing that happens or has always happened in our world, is that you have the body, the mind but the spirit is missing. The human being is also always looking, looking for something and if it boils down to things, he will always be looking because there is always new things, so you have to have someone to give you the answers, someone who catches you since you are young, and take all your questions and doubts to clarify your way, and be prepared for those answers... Because when we were born we didn't come with an instruction manual, so we have parents, our family circle to guide and train us for this life and identify our aptitudes, tools, our special abilities that make us different from others and make our life fruitful and fulfilling. In my case, there was no place for that, daily pressure to maintain a family and a house and a retrograde and traditionalist education system, there was no one who noticed your abilities. I always liked to play and feel free, what is increasingly difficult, what I also always liked (or not) was that I was rarely wrong in my long-term thoughts...!

I lived a world of emotions, from the best to the worst, simply living the best we can, predicting the future, because that's right, we have an end, we were born to die and before it comes the day, predicting the future,