

KINGDOM OF THE SUN

© Copyright 2021 by Rita Khatchadorian - All rights reserved. You are not permitted to reproduce, duplicate or transmit any part of this document, whether in electronic or printed form. The inclusion of this publication is strictly prohibited.

About the Author:

Rita Khatchadorian is a Belgian author with Armenian roots. Her father used the name Baberyan when they arrived in Belgium, but Khatchadorian was their family name for centuries. Her family came from Mardin before they fled to Iraq due to the Armenian genocide in 1915. She was born in Greece on 22 June 1998 and later on she lives in Belgium. She speaks 7 languages fluently and studied art in middle school. She holds a degree in criminology and psychology and is currently studying International Business Management in Brussels. She has four more siblings. Apart from her studies, she has several companies. She writes books, has a decor rental company, fashion line, and paints/draws. She has written three books until now: Touch of Heaven, My hope in you, and My fifty written chapters for you. Her fourth book is called: Kingdom of the Sun. The books she writes represent her homeland, Armenia. As well, as her personal life lessons.

Short summary of the book

Kingdom of the sun is based on the well-known legendary myth of Ara the Beautiful and Semiramis. A legendary based on revenge, hatred and sick love. Kingdom of the Sun begins in modern day Yerevan, 2021. Iskuhi is a student who lives a normal life as a young woman. Everything changes when she touches a tree on a rainy day as she tries to tie her shoes. As she touches it, thunder falls on that tree which will bring her back to the time of Ara the beautiful. She's back in 809 BC and does not understand how this could happen. At first, she was sure that she was in a dream until she realized she never woke up from it. She met the well-known mythic legend, Ara the beautiful who will get married to Nevard because his mother wished so, since a king had to have heirs. On the other hand, Semiramis has a sick obsession for Ara. Semiramis is the well-known Queen of the Kingdom of Assyria, who would do anything to get him. The love story of Iskuhi and Ara is developing and Semiramis swears war against the Armenian kingdom because Ara refused her marriage proposal. Iskuhi, knowing the fate of her lover, how will she be able to manage everything that is happening, which she had already read about in modern day Armenia, more than two thousand years later?

