Future

When the Moon,
And the sun,
Merge together—

This for eternity,
Peace will destroy,
All destruction.

The flames once split,
As they were one.
And when they join,
The end has begun—

A new forever.

Ink

As i lay awake,
These thoughts keep haunting.
As i stare at the ceiling,
Memories flow loose—

The pages are stained,
Ink has covered page by page,
Now, my memories flow loose—

The lock unchained,
But still feel restrained,
I am but a vessel,
My memory flows—

My book is empty,
An empty ink stain,
My memory stops.
