Schreuder, a history of space is a collection of artworks made by me during 2022 and part of 2023, at about the end of covid. A time for me to think about what inspired me over the years. One of these thoughts went to my early youth; the sixties an era full of change in music, art, life, and also the Space programs of Russia and the USA. As a child, I followed the Apollo broadcasts in black and white tv shows. It was also the talk in ground school, among boxing of Cassius Clay (still the name for us at the time). One of my first pieces of art, a paper, glue, and scissors piece of 15 x 20 cm was still in my mother's possession, she gave it to me and made me remember these times. A picture is included in this book.

All these experiences are still somewhere in my mind, hidden in corners that open at random or subconsciously steer my thoughts and inspiration. Looking at that old paper piece of art you notice the same colors I still use today. Even the use of abstract forms is already in place. I also remember the cartoons we used to watch; The Jetsons, Flintstones, and also the puppet series: The thunderbirds.

The works in this book represent as usual parts of my daily life. I hope you can enjoy them as much as me making them.
