OKSANA OOMS

IMPORTANT WORDS OF WIFE TO HER HUSBAND

2022

DAY ONE

Take care of me as if today is our first moment together.
Ask me out on a date like you're doing this for the first time.
Tell me on a date what you like about me.

Show me to me.

Sometimes I forget myself and my merits in an everyday routine chase.

Open my eyes on me. I'll be surprised, believe me.

I'll laugh because I've forgotten the joy of seeing yourself beautiful and calm.

Look at me as if right now you have met the best, the girl from your dreams.

Sometimes it happens so!

Lucky you!

Give me your shining and dying eyes, as if your admiration and delight in communicating with me is my diploma for myself, the best one.
I want to get such diplomas every day with your loving glances!

DAY TWO

Tell me how you will love me more and more every year.

It's not just necessary for me.

I live for this.

I've been frightened by this marvelous old age for so many years that

I begin to suspect that it comes at the age of fifteen.

But I see! I see how women sometimes walk with their men.

They glow. Their eyes are shining.

They stay straight. Their men look at them with admiration.

Their heart stops. Because they are together.

Together with their forever beloved.

The beloved is, by the way, about ninety years old!

And he is the same together with his sweetheart...

I want the same. To be Beloved.

I want you to look at me with admiration.

Will you be this man?

If you don't agree, you will have to either compliment and appreciate me or endure empty and dull eyes.

Mine. But I want shining eyes.

You are responsible for them, my dear.

It's you who is responsible for the burning temperature of my eyes.

Come on, start a fire. Talk. Look.

All this is because you admire me.
