IMPORTANT WORDS OF FATHER TO DAUGHTER

2022

DAY ONE

My sunshine, as it turned out, your birth changed my whole life.

I got this precious gift in my arms - you.

So, everything began to shine. You came to the world.

I don't promise to make your life perfect.

Because there are too many people out there who can change everything in a moment, and they aren't under my control.

I promise I'll do everything in my power to make you happy.

Let me teach you to make the right choice, to reveal in yourself the right attitude to your importance, to your actions, and the right perception of reality.

You are the light and flight.

But all of this is so exposed to the winds that seethe around!

I'll teach you how to choose the right direction in this flight of life.

Just listen to me.

DAY TWO

My little girl, I look at you and I see how beautiful you are.

You are charming. You are tender. You are fragile.

You are airy. You are my most precious treasure. Look at me.

Do you see how much I admire you?

Do you feel those light and admirable energies that have taken over me here with you?

I want you to remember this feeling.

How is it to bask in love, my dear.

Exactly this feeling - when you are loved, appreciated,
cherished, and cared just for being yourself - is the most important criterion by which you will choose people in your life.

This is how your chosen one should look at you.

This is the way you should feel about communicating with friends.

This is your anchor point. Of course, it could be better.

Surround yourself with people who love you.

Always give this feeling back because it doesn't like to belong to one person.
