< THE PLANET OF REMEMBRANCE >

In a world far far away

(or closeby, maybe, who will say...)

Exists the Planet of Remembrance

Full of happy little fellas

Called Beings

They all know where they come from

They don't ponder about what to do,

Or who or what to be

They simply, not so simple

Take pleasure in existing,

Enjoy being here

(or there, or.. anywhere..)

Let them brighten up your day

Let them, lighten up your path

And maybe even, who will say..

Bring forth a brand new start

They look forward to being your friends!

Always remember that you belong,

The Beings from the Planet of Remembrance

ORACLE

Choose a drawing however often you like, by blindly opening the book to a certain page.

You can pick one daily, for special occasions, let them be your guide.

Leave the book open, set it aside.

Both the drawings and the words will impart their wisdom, by Simply looking at them or pondering about them as means of meditation.

Let them speak to you, and open your heart to beautiful things,

Possibly long forgotten.

Each one of them were created between the open lions gate in august and the lions moon in february.

Infused with loving intentions and heavenly insight.

Bliss,

The Tatted Alchemist
