Dear Parents and Teachers,

Welcome to this Double Doodle Activity Book — a playful workbook designed to help children practice drawing, tracing, numbers, and English letters in a fun and creative way.

Children learn best when they feel relaxed, curious, and interested. Let your child choose the page he wants to start with. Some children prefer numbers, others like letters, and some may enjoy mirror drawings the most. There is no need to complete the book in order. The most important thing is to keep the learning process enjoyable.

This book includes different types of exercises:

- tracing with both hands at the same time;
- drawing mirror images;
- practicing with the right or left hand;
- writing numbers from 0 to 10;
- tracing the English alphabet.

Double doodling is a creative activity where both hands work together. It helps children explore movement, coordination, symmetry, and focus. Drawing with two hands at the same time may feel unusual at first, but with gentle practice it becomes an exciting challenge.

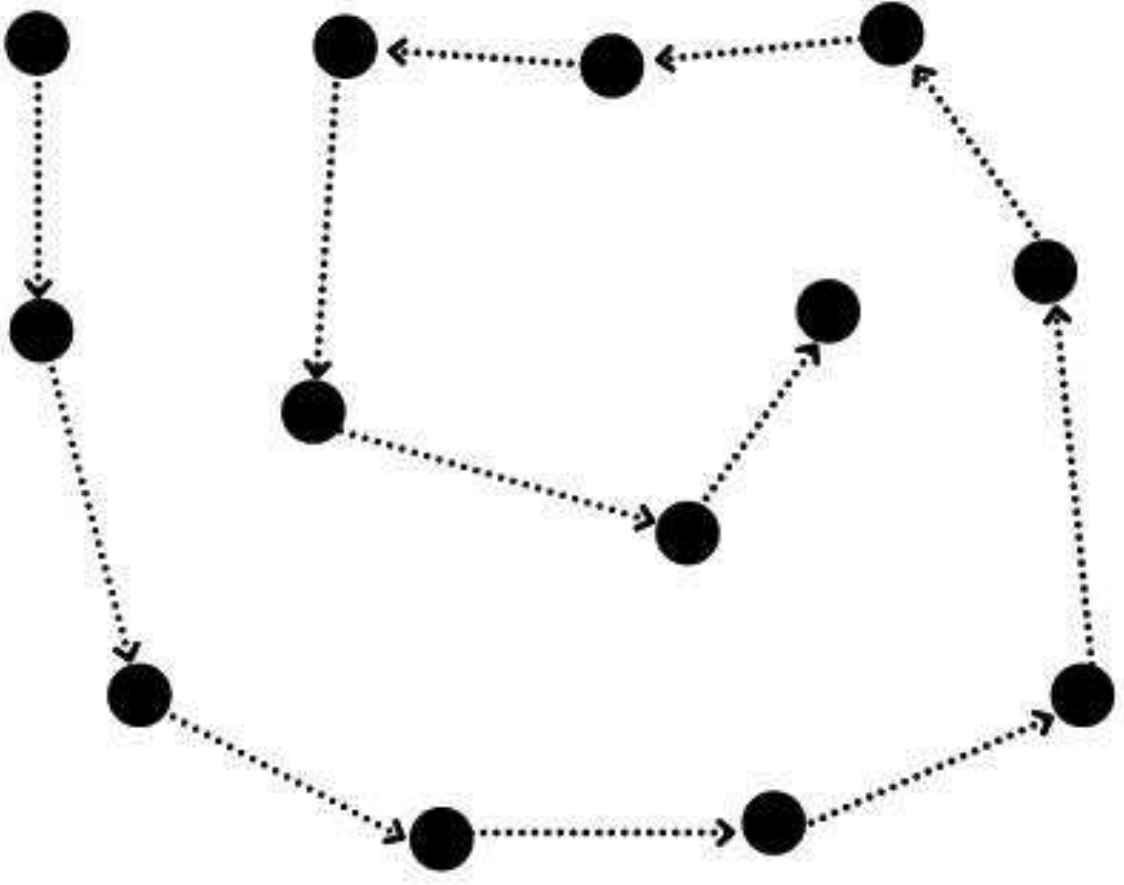

Please encourage your child to work slowly and calmly. If he gets tired, bored, or frustrated, take a break and return to the activity later. This book is not about perfect lines. It is about practice, confidence, creativity, and joy.

Mirror drawing can be challenging even for adults, so every small step matters. Praise your child for trying, for concentrating, and for enjoying the process.

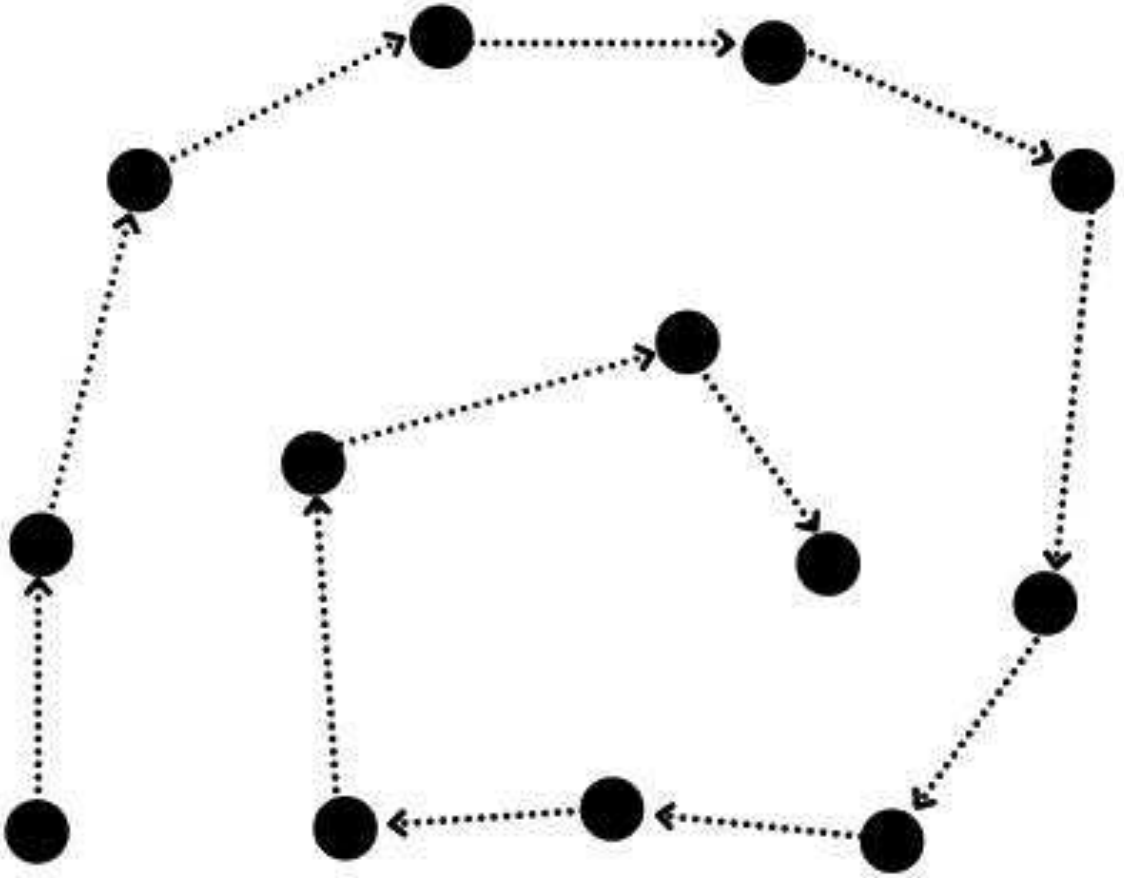

I hope this book brings many happy learning moments and helps your child discover the fun of drawing, tracing, and writing.

With warm regards,
Natalee Alex
