Recipe

500 ml buttermilk
3 eggs
6 heaped tablespoons flour
1 pinch of salt
1 teaspoon sunflower oil for each pancake

First mix the buttermilk, eggs and salt in a blender. Then add the flour until the dough is creamy, just slightly fluid.

Put the oil in a preheated pan (28 cm diameter), add one scoop of dough, space out evenly and fry on both sides for 2 minutes.

You may vary the amount or type of flour (whole grain, wheat or other) and/or the size of the eggs in order to get different results in surface structure or desired degree of browning, which also depends on frying time and temperature.

Enjoy your own personal moon expedition – and the pancake as well!
