

Sheep are herd animals.
This means they stay together
and do the same thing at the same time.

They eat together.
They eat the same thing,
mainly grass,
and eat the same amount.
That's why they all feel full
after three hours of grazing.

But what about Scout?

