

This is the story of Daniel,
the boy who loves taking looooooong baths.

Every day, it's the same old story . . .
Mom knocks on the bathroom door and asks,

"Daniel? Are you still in there?
If you stay in the water for too long,
you'll turn into a prune!"

But Daniel pretends not to hear . . .
"Daniel, that's enough!"

"But Mom, the battle between Finn and Quackman is just getting good!"
